Gen, J. E. B. Stuart is the son of the late Archibald Stuart, for several years a member of the House of Representatives of the United States from the district which then embraced the county of Patrick, in Virginia, where we believe he was born. At a very early age he gave takes of a quick and active ni d. His father died ten or twelve years ago. His father died ten or twelve years ago. His mother yet I'v s.

James E. B. Stuart entered the Military Academy of West Point in the year 1850. Among his ectemporaries at that institution were Ambrose P. itill, Henry Heth. George H. Stenart, T. H. Holmes, Beverly H. Robertson, and N. George Evans, Seth M. Barton, Alfred Cummings, and Thomas S. Rhett, of the rebel army, and Burnside, Viele, Wilcox, Cogswell, and others of greater or less repute in the Union army. Among his immediate classmates were Colonels John Pegram, George W. Custis Lee, and John B. Villepigne, now well known in the rebel service, and Major Greble of the Union artiflery, who was killed in the first battle of the way at Great Bethel. In the Union army the highest rank attained In the Union army the highest rank attained by Stuart was that of first lieutenant; but this was in the first eavalry, a regiment noted for its officers, of which Gen. Summer was then colonel, and Major General Joseph F. Johnson, of the rebel army, lieutenant colonel.

There are doubtless on the file in the pigeon-holes of the War Department at Washington, official reports of many encounters with the savage, recording in a curt, dry, cold manner enterprises which, in the glowing narrative of a Walter Scott of an Alexandre on maintee and the second of an Alexandre Dumas, would vie in interest with the stories of chivalry. One of these only, in which Lieutenant Stuart bore a part, has been recorded in our newspapers; but the account is as shoft and unsatisfactory as possible. On the 29th July, '57, at a time when we were absorbed with the Atlantic telegraph and other exciting matters of the "piping times of perce," Col. Summer encountered a force of three hun fred braves of the Cheyenne tribe, strongly posted upon Solomon's Fork of the Kansas river, and, after a sharp struggle, put them to flight in great disorder. In this combat Lieut, Stuart was severely wounded.

At the outbreak of the present war Lieut, Stuart resigned his commission and offered his sword to the cause of the South. It is Stuart resigned his commission and offered his sword to the cause of the South. It is unnecessary to refer to his exploits since that time. They have been laid before the public. With his rapid tise from a colonel to the command of a brigade and soon after to the rank of a Major General of cavalry, our readers are familiar. Perhaps the most striking and successful of all his expeditions were the Pamunkey raid through McClellan's lines, in which the rebel Captain Latine was lost, and the recent descent upon Catlett's Station, where he gathered up the official correspondence and full-dress uniform coat of Gen. Pope. As a cavalry officer, General Stuart combines with his regular West Point training much of the clan of John Morgan and Turner Ashby. Ready for any enterprise, his military moto seems to be that of the French leader—"De Pandace, encore de Pandace, tujours de Pandace, encore de Pandace, tujours de Vandace, un his raid into Pennsylvania seems to have surpassed his previous acts of audacity.

In the old army Stuart was universally known under the nicknome of "Beauty Stuart," as reflecting upon his personal appearance. his sword to the cause of the South. It is known under the nickneme of "Beauty Stinart," as reflecting upon his personal appearance. The lower part of his face is overflowed by a torrent of reddish brown beard; but, according to rebel authority, his eye is bright and mobile, his movements are full of grace, his address is pleasing, his port lofty, and his hotsemanship perfect.

Gen. Stuart married a daughter of Phillip St. Covern Carlos Chimsel, the Segond.

Gen. Stuart married a daughter of Phillip St. George Cooke, Colonel of the Second Dragoons in the United States army. This other, a Virginian by birth and education, is the brother of the late John R. Cooke of Richmond. It was said that one of Stuart's objects in the Pamunkey expedition was to take his father-in-law prisoner.

Bloody Revenge of the Circassians,

Some days since we republished a statement from the English papers of the recent defeat of the Russian army by the Circus dans, but the whole story was not told. A correspondent of the Levent Herald, writing under date of June 28, says that the whole number of Russian captives (three thousand) were mutdered in cold blood by the Circussians. We conv:

We copy:

"I have another great Circassian victory to days ago the Russian "I have another great Circassian victory to report. About ten days ago the Russian General Evdokimoff proceeded with a strong column towards the valley inhabited by the hostile Shapsu and Abessa tribes, with a view to devastate the whole. On being apprised of the enemy's approach, the threatened population promptly moved off with their cattle and other moveables into the monatains, and called with a their reliable to the being contracted. other moveables into the momentum, and called on the other tribes to rally to their assistance. This appeal was speedily responded to, and in a couple of days s ch a force had assembled from all sides as was thought sufficient not merely to make a stand against, but to attack from all sides as was thought sufficient not merely to make a stand against, but to attack the Russians. This was accordingly decided on and as the lortress of Hamkete in the neighborhood was the chief source of danger, dominating as it did the whole plain, an assault upon it was first resolved on. Accordingly on the night of the 22d inst., a strong force composed of contingents from the Ubiks, Shapsus and Abaschs, proceeded under cover of the darkness to the fort, and by a rapid simultaneous escalade on all sides, made good a footing within the walls. Whilst a party of these assailants engaged the surprised garrison, the others opened the gates to their fellows outside, and the wild, murderous crowd rolled in. As quarter is seldom or never the fashion on either side in this war, none was now given to the Russians; the whole, numbering it is said 3000 men, were batchered on the spot, and the morning broke on not a living Aluscovite within the bloodstained walls.

"The fruits of this sufficiently savage victory were the capture of large stores of arms and army and the morning field.

"The fruits of this sufficiently savage victory were the capture of large stores of arms and ammunition, including several valuable field-pieces, and mountain howitzers. The large guns were all spiked, and after the place had been stripped of everything worth carrying off, it was set fire to and demolished. In the meantime, the valley into which Gen. Evdokimoff had lucklessly moved, had been surrounded, and all the outlets from it closed by strong bodies of the other mountaineers, and the surrender or destriction of the whole detachment was regarded (by the Circassians) as certain when the bearer of this news left the scene of action."—Am. paper.

The D'Ewes Defalcation.

there is of getting a Registration Bill through before the House is dissolved or dies a natu-We alluded in our last issue to the Gordon ral death, which is the least likely. Dr defalcation, about which the Government frimble need not think, however, that the seems to manifest no knowledge whatever public will be satisfied with a notice, nor We now call attention to the D'Ewes defalca tion. That occurred a year ago too. Shortly Act itself. If "no quorum." however, con afterwards, during the last session, Mr. Burtinues to be the order of the day, there will naby called for a report on the subject. But not be much chance of the Doctor gaining no report has ever been forthcoming. Mr credit even for good intentions. It is said Harris, we believe, sometime in July also that the absence of the legal member for the called for a report from the Executive on the city leaves the House at sea; that they subject. But none has been sent down to the House. It must seem very strange to our that shining light. But surely this cannot readers that a thousand pounds can be taken be so. They cannot be so completely incasurreptitiously from the funds of the Postoffice pable of fulfilling their legislative duties as Department, yet no account can be rendered this would mply? But, from whatever to the public. If the department had been the cause, they seem lately, after spasmodic private business of any member of the Government, we could comprehend why a report of one week at a time, to relapse after a few is withheld. The Legislature would have no days into a state of somnolency which may right to ask how Mr. John D'Ewes, the deputy be taken to precede final dissolution. We letter-examiner of Mr. Somebody, squandered the funds. Such inquisition into private affairs might justly be denied. But in no case can the Executive with due respect to the Legisla-ture refuse to notice or acknowledge the request for a report. The least that would be done by a fair and-square administration, had the Postoffice been private business like Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express, would have been to acknowledge the request of the Assembly, and state that it was beyond the jurisdiction of the Executive to accord any information on the subject. But as it is, the Executive treats the D'Ewes defalcation as though it were a private affair ; fails to pay due respect to the Assembly, and assumes to smother up any public inquiry into the mysterious doings of Mr. John D'Ewes, ex-Postmaster. It must strike plain and practical people that there is something "rotten in Denmark." Some £300 a year was taken from the Treasury to pay the ex-Postmuster's salary. He was as much a public officer as the Governor; his department was as much subject to the inspection of the Assembly as the Land Office; yet that body asks information, but receives no answer. The people are at a dead-lock. The Executive will not give them information; the Assembly will not insist on having it. Consequently no light can be shed on the transaction. Remarkable condition of affairs, is it not? Let our new arrivals from old England ponder over Monday, December 1st, 1862, this affair. Let them ask themselves whether IN FRONT OF SALESROOM, No. 1 REID'S BLOCK they can recall an instance in modern times wherein the Home Secretary was called upon mons for information, and did not give even an answer, pro or con.? If such can be done, we shall consent to do without the information as to how D'Ewes pocketed £1,000 more or less of the public money. But such an answer is utterly impossible. No Imperial Minister dare refuse any information called for by the deliberate and unanimous vote of the Commons. Or, if he did, he would be at once hurled from power. But our administration can assume a degree of irresponsibility unknown at this day in England. It can refuse information and a submissive Assembly refuses tacitly to persist in asking it. The Assembly allows its prerogative to inquire into and redress public grievances to be set aside by a snubbing from the Executive, or by training with the "Minister." Were there any opposition in the House, either active or passive, a strict account of receipts and expenditure, and deficiency of the ex-Postmaster would be called for-be had-be laid before the country. But the members of all political persuasions seem disposed to let the matter "slide." We are told-whether true or false we cannot vouch-that a gentleman in the Reform party was security for D'Ewes. If such be true, why is not some action taken to make good the loss? In a matter of money-due from the incumbent of a department and secured by bonds-there is no course open but collection, no matter who may be the party liable. If such be not done, our departmental officers may have a license to become the greatest swindlers with the assurance of escaping with perfect impunity. We put the case to the country-what can be thought of an Assembly that allows the colony to be swindled out of £1000, more or less, without invest gating it? or what can be thought of an As sembly that asks for information, gets no answer, but pockets the snubbing ! Or what can be thought of an executive that treats the Assembly as though it had no right to inquire into departmental affairs? These are plain questions, but they convey a world of meaning. They show how five dollars by a unanimous vote of the House of Comhave been taken from every tax-payer's pocket illegalty, yet no inquiry has been instituted. Legislative. What a contrast the life of parliamentary men often exhibits between promises and performance. How swelling with an anxious desire of serving their country appear the candidates at the hustings, and how quickly they subside after their election into a set of ordinary mortals. Their country's interests are objects of attention only so far as it will serve their purpose at the next election. Nothing has more strongly shown this than the proceedings in the House of Assembly for the last few months. It is only by the most convulsive efforts, that a House can be got tegether, and then how long does it last? By an extraordinary stretch of exertion they will sometimes sit for three or four days consecutively, and then exhausted by their labors, they lay off for a season to recuperate. This would not, perhaps, matter so very much if the results were commensurate even with the time occupied in action. But with long-winded arguments, first to prove black is white, and then to prove it's the reverse-frittering away valuable time, appearing to be actively engaged, yet having little or nothing to show for the labor many of the members seem to imagine that they confer a great favor upon their constituents by merely showing themselves in har ness. We do not desire to be captious We are disposed to make due allowance for the circumstances which obtain in this colcny. We are willing that the members of the Assembly should have credit for what they have done, and that some of their short-comings should be received with due indulgence, but the public demand that there be a good deal less sham and a little more work; that members shall not try to appear to be desitous of passing useful measures-measures that are absolutely required by the country, and yet let the session slip over without moving any faster than if they had the whole year before NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

The prosecutor said that the prisoner had snatched the purse from his hand after paying for some drinks, and then ran off with it, that the prisoner had confessed he had taken the money in the presence of several wit-nesses, when he afterwards saw him and charged him with the offence; and that the prisoner had given him $20 to say nothing about the affair shortly before the officer who had been sent for arrived.

The evidence of the witness was throughout very disconnected and his conduct very irregular, it being obvious that he appeared in court under the influence of liquor, and some harshness had to be used to induce him to forego his inclination to cross examine the price. Officer Douglas, who arrested the prisoner, said that on the way to the jail the prisoner, after being duly cautioned, twice told him that he had given the prosecutor $20 to let that no man given the prosecutor co to let him off.

of a new gold-washing machine was exhibited on Johnson street on Saturday. It consists of a revolving cylinder of four feet in length and 3 feet in diameter, placed on a stout frame, and adjusted to turn easily by a crank. The drum of the cylinder is made of sheet iron, and at regular intervals round the interior are fixed lateral bars, provided the interior are fixed lateral bars, provided with rows of wooden pins or teeth, projecting inwards. The pay-dirt is shoveled into an opening in the cylinder, and water being introduced, the machine is rotated till the gold is thoroughly separated from the dirt. THE DANCE HOUSE .- This infamous establishment is now in full blast, having been formally opened on Saturday night last. It had, doubtless, a considerable number of votaries, as the sound of their revelry could be plainly heard by passers by on Store street. The building, which is a large one, is situated on the flats between Fisgnard street and the Gas Works, in the immediate vicinity of that other public nuisance, the pestilential cesspool by the side of the Esquimal road, the noxious are from which assailed the olfactories of all who passed it during last summer.

Almost a Conflagration.—The roof of a house of ill-fame on Broad street took fire again last Saturday morning about nine o'clock, owing to the defective arrangement of a stovepipe, and but for the prompt suppression of the flames by Messrs. Nesbitt and Fawcett, who, attracted by the alarm, rendered their services, it might have been our provence to record a serious destruction of property. The steamer Enterprise arrived from New EDITOR BRITISH COLORIST-SIR: How rashly EDITOR BRITISH COLOUIST—SIR: How rashly man will speak upon the origin of words, is known to every student of Philology. In the Daily Chronicle of Nov. 23d, is an amusing paragraph touching the word "skedaddle." "This word (it is said) is not derived from the Greek word 'skedao,' to seatter." Perfectly true; but is it equily true that "the root of 'skedaddle' is in the Gaelic Celtic, and the ancient British or Welsk language?" Westminster on Saturday night, at half-past eight o'clock. She brought 40 passengers and a small amount of gold-dust. From some of her passengers we gain additional Rawley & Co., on Williams' Creek, whose

If the writer of "extemporaneous facts" will secure a copy of Buckdorf's edition of "Seduntolap" or the "Lost Ring," he will there, if sufficiently lucky, find the following paragraph:

"The ring! the ring! child of the Sun, "skedad," 'skedad," 't. e, fee! he e!"

No. European scholar could ever trace this word "skedad" to the Sanserit root; and when it came before American Orientalists not one at tempted to solve the difficulty. But if the Americans could not trace the word to its root, being a practical people, they were not unwilling to adopt so expressive a term by adding the syllable "die" 'Skedad' became "skedadle," and is now a favorite word with the American public. To say that the origin of the word is from the Ceitic, is told indeed.

Perhaps the next paragraph in the Daily Chron-le's will maintain that it is derived from the expression common to the Celts of Ireland, "by dad," corrupted into 'skedad," a cry ever on the lips of the Celt when about to rush from impending trouble. Philology is too important a su'jet to be trilled with. Preparations were being made to convey goods from the Forks to Williams' Creek on dog sleds. McAtthur, who carried on the business last winter, has now some ten of twelve dogs on the route, and had lately gone to Fort George for an additional number—a good many trained animals having VICTORIA THEATRE. - The attendance at the theatre continues to augment, under the efficient management of Mr. Bell. Saturday evening's bill brought a house filled to the brim. Nor were they disappointed. What with the beautiful drama of the "Broken Heart," in which the talented Miss Mitchell lately arrived at that place from the Rec River settlement.

By Deitz & Nelson's Express, we are put in possession of the following:

Wm. Humphrey, messenger of Barnard's Express, left Williams Creek on the 8th No app. ared as Agnes, and the great moral play "Ten Nights in a Bar Room", in whiel she appeared as Ellen Morgan, assisted by Mr. G. B Waldron as Joe Morgan, and Miss Lulu Sweet as little Mary Morgan, there was an ample fund of entertainment to satisfy the most exacting. The acting gave the utmost satisfaction. The presence of The weather in Cariboo had been and still continued to be very mild. The stock of meat killed by Black & Caribie, valued at $9,000. two such artistes as Miss Mitchell and Mr Wolfard seems to make everything go on most harmoniously. We were especially suprised with the improvement in Miss Luliu Sweet as Mary Morgan. Miss Divine too succeeded well as the Yankee Gal. Space prevents us particularizing further, but the other members of the troupe played very well indeed.

To-night the gifted tragedienne, Miss

Mitchell, will appear under the patronage of Col. Moody, R. E. British Columbia, in the great character of "Evadue," in the the great character of Evidanc, in the fine tragedy of that name, supported by Mr. Waldron as Ludovico, and Mr. Mortimer as Colonna. Miss Mitchell will also appear again in "Ten Nights in a Bar-room" as Ellen Morgan. We would advise all who can to go and enjoy the rare treat, as Miss Mitchell's stay is but short. The steamer Gov. Among the passengers were five Stekin adventurers, who were coming down in a canoe; they honest nor true. "" Blarney " is, therefore, a convertible term of "soft sawder," or may be used instead of the immetal monosyllable uttered by Lady Caroline Staggs, and recorded in the "Vicar of Wakefield "—fudge!

Blarney Castle was built by Cormac Mac-Carty Laider, the fourth lord of the manor, seendant of one of the hereditary kings of Munster, probably took place in the year 1449. It is founded on a rock of limestone, and consists of several chambers and extensive buildings, differing in character and age. The principle tower is upwards of 100 feet high. In the northeast angle of its battlements is embedded the ever famous stone; but some claim the honor for a remarkable stone in the external wall, eight feet from the summit. The building next this tower the summit, The building next this tower the summit. The building next this tower the summit of the summit of the summit of the summit of the summit. The building next this tower the summit of the summit o lation of the new officers of this society will the summit. take place at three o'clock this afternoon, in the truck-house of the Union Hook and Ladder Company, from whence the members will proceed to St. John's Church, Douglas street, where the anniversary sermon will be delivered by the Rev. R. J. Dundas, the chaplain elect. In the evening the dinner will take place in the Lyceum Hall, at which His Excellency the Governor will preside. The attendance on this occasion will be very large and influential. circuit, and covers about thirty acres song describes it as well stored with perch and cels. Leeches are also found in the cels. Leeches are also found in it; but we have not ascertained their en-ployment in the healing art. The "sweet rockclose" is a broken terrace on the banks of the Coman streamken terrace on the banks of the Coman stream-let, overhung by evergreens and some forest trees. Here were placed the statues of the "heathen god-lesses and nymphs so fair," commemorated by the bard. A flight of steps, bearing the fauciful name of the "Witches' Stairs," leads down to the water's edge. They are covered over with large flags, and close beside them is a fine Cromlech, (or funeral stone) from which, perhaps, the popurar title arose. The demesne is now a dairy farm. The adjoining village is falling into ruin, from the lailure of the woolen and linen mills, which once existed to the number of thirteen. The once existed to the number of thirteen. The once existed to the humber of thirteen. The most interesting modern reminiscence arises from the visit of the author of Waverly during his Irish tour in 1825. We may add that the Castle remained in the possession of the descendants of the Mac-

Carty until forfeited, with the extensive es-tates belonging to the Lord Muskerry and Clancarty, in the war of 1689, after which it passed into the hands of the Jellries family, to whose representative it still belongs. s. -celebrated

Blarney Castle and its song-celebrated groves are situated about five miles from Cork, on the river Lee.

Holloway's Pills are undeniably the finest M sdicine in the world for Billiousness and Indigestion. In all cases of deranged stomach, determination of blood to the head, bile, sick headache, mination of blood to the head, bile, sick head alele, liver and stomach complaints, there is no medicine known that will give such immediate relief as these ren owned Pills; young and old, rich or poor, partonise them, and so many cures are effected by their use, that their praise is sounded from the temperate climate to the frigid zone; in truth, persons who travel consider them a necessary requisite. During the overland journey to India, the blood becomes overheated, the liver torpid, the skin covered with a prickly heat, and the whole system languid and exhausted. Nothing so soon gives relief as Holloway's Pills.

BILLIOUS AFFECTIONS—Are speedily removed by the use of Dr. Jayne's Sanative Pills. The test of 30 years' use has proved them superior to all their remedies for the cure of the various diseases. ther femenics for the cure of the various diseases or which they are recommended. Headaches, Bile, Loss of Appetite, and Lowness of Spirits.

Lowness of Spirits.

These Pills require no interruption of bysiness or pleasure; they act mildly on the bowels, strengthen the stomach, and promote a healthy action of the liver, whereby they purify the blood, cleanse the skin, brace the nerves, and invigorate the while system. They effect a truly wonderful change in debli tated consilutions, as they creat a healthy appetite, correct indigestion, remove bile, giddiness, head-aches, and palpitation of the heart.

In cases of debility, languer, and nervousness generated by excess of any kind, whether mextal or physical, the efact of these Pills is in the highest degree bracing, renovating and restorative. They drive from the system the morbid cause of disease; restablish the digestion, regulate all the secretions, brace the nervous system, raise the patient's spirits, and bring back the frame to its prisine health and vigor. They increace the appretite, while they secure periest digestion to all ordinary food, and release the invalid trom restraint in dist.

o medicine will cure colds so quickly as those s, when of long duration or settled on the chest vent hough it has assumed the first stage of asth they may be relied on as a certain and never ing cure, particularly if the Ointment be well rubinto the chest and throat night and morning. It catch the eye of any asthmatical person so bad ven not able to lie down in bed, let him well use se two preparations for only a week, and the re will be marvellous.

More persons die suddenly from diseares of the heart than the unlearned suppose: in such complaints, the bowels should always be kept well open, as also where there is a tendency of blood to the head. These celebrated Pills purify the blood in an extraordinary manner, and should be taken in copious doses when such symptoms occur, taking care not to overload the stomach; by this means all danger is quickly averted. Children's Complaints.

Blood to the Head--Diseases of the Heart

Children's Complaints.

It is not generally known, but such is the fact, that children require medicine oftener than their parents, Three-fourths of the children die before they attain the age of eight years. Let mothers, then, be wise, and give to their children small doses of these invaluable Fills once or twice every week, in such quantity as may act gently upon the system twice in the wenty-four nours. For infants, a Fill may be crushed and given as a powder in a little water. The gross humors that are constantly floating about in the blood of children, the forerunners of so many complaints, will thus be explied, and the lives of thou sands saved and preserved to their parents. Holloway's Pills are the best remedy known in the world for the following diseases:

THEE WOELD'S PELEND! Holloway's Ointment.

Gout and Rheumatism.

This invaluable Ointment was never known to fail in the cure of any wound, any sore, or any ulcer,—as can be proved by innumerable testimonials from persons who had been discharged from Hospitals as incurable, and yet by perseverance they have been made as sound as they were the day they were born, but the properties of the search of th

There is scarcely any disease in which purgative nedicines are not required; and much sickness and affering might be prevented were they more gener-illy used. No person can feel well while a costive abid of body prevails, besides, it soon generates cricus and often fatal diseases, which might be yolded by timely and judicious use of proper Ca-

serious and often fatal diseases, which might be avoided by timely and judicious use of proper Catherite medicines.

Convinced of the correctness of these views, JAYNE'S SANATEVE PILLS

Are recommended with the greatest confidence, experience having demonstrated them to be far superior to any other in use, being more mild, promptsafe and uniform in their operation. While using them no particular care is required, and patients may eat and drink as usual. Age will not impair them, as they are so combined as to always readily dissolve in the stomach. In small doses they are atterative and gently laxative, but in large doses are actively catherite, cleaning the whole alimentary canal from all purtish, irritating and lecal matters.

For DYSP2151A, these Fills are really an invaluable article, gradually clausing the vibrated secretary and particular and producing the configuration in those unit the more speedily effected by using in configuration with the Pille, ether Jayne's Attentive or Tonic Verminge, according to directions.
